

Personal Belongings in the Library

Personal belongings, including but, not limited to, books, laptops, book bags, backpacks, briefcases, cell phones, and tablets, left unattended are at risk of being stolen. If you leave the Library, you must take all belongings with you. Library staff retains the right to place unattended belongings in the Library “Lost and Found,” located at each service desk in the Library. The “Lost and Found” is maintained as a courtesy to patrons, but the Library is not responsible for loss or damage to personal belongings.
